

1. Write a program that create a thread and display the line of multiplication table of number 5 for every 3 seconds.
2. Create a java program to read a paragraph of text data and create 2 threads namely word, vowel and do the following operations with 2 seconds delay.
 - A. word thread display each word one by one.
 - B. vowel thread prints each vowel one by one
3. Create a java application that uses multi-threading concept to perform the following.
 1. Getting inputs from user by using the thread name called "t1".
 2. Perform addition operation using the thread name called "t2"
 3. Perform division operation using the thread name called "t3"
 4. Perform Sum of numbers using the thread name called "t4"